Kwame Alexander. Crossover (2015 Newbery Medal)

The Bell twins are stars on the basketball court and comrades in life. While there are some differences—Josh shaves his head and Jordan loves his locks—both twins adhere to the Bell basketball rules: In this game of life, your family is the court, and the ball is your heart. Series includes Rebound and Booked. Realistic.

Katherine Applegate. Home of the Brave

Kek comes from Africa and has been sent to a new home. In America, he wonders if the people in this new place will be like the winter—cold and unkind. But slowly he makes friends, including a sad cow that reminds Kek of home. Realistic.

Katherine Applegate is also the 2013 Newbery Award winner for The One and Only Ivan about an easygoing gorilla living at the local mall who has grown accustomed to humans watching him through glass walls.

Kelly Barnhill. The Girl Who Drank the Moon. (2017 Newbery Medal)

This winner of the 2017 Newbery Medal has a strong female protagonist, Luna, who is taken from her family and saved by a kindhearted witch who accidentally gives her magical powers. Barnhill is also the author of The Witch's Boy. Fantasy

Holly Black. Doll Bones

Black's tale of friendship and the trials of growing up is set against the backdrop of a spooky ghost story. Realistic

Andrew Clements. Extra Credit

It isn't that Abby Carson can't do her schoolwork; it's just that she doesn't like doing it. And that means she's pretty much failing sixth grade. Unless she wants to repeat, she'll have to complete an extra-credit project: find a penpal in a foreign country. Realistic

Leslie Connor. Waiting for Normal

Living in the small trailer with her mother who is barely able to take care of herself, 12-year-old Addie makes the best of things, but misses her caring stepfather and sisters. Maybe one day something close to normal can happen for her, too. Realistic

Sharon M. Draper. Blended

Eleven-year-old Isabella's parents are divorced, so she has to switch lives every week: One week she's Isabella with her dad, his girlfriend Anastasia, and her son Darren living in a fancy house where they are one of the only black families in the neighborhood. The next week she's Izzy with her mom and her boyfriend John-Mark in a small, not-so-fancy house that she loves. Also the author of Double Dutch and Out of My Mind. Realistic
