

What is your animal?

Chipmunk

What does your animal look like?

Chipmunks are eight inches long including their tails. They have light and dark stripes on their faces, backs, and sides. The rest of their backs, legs, and tails are reddish brown.

Where in the world does your animal live?

Chipmunks live in Asia and North America. They like areas with trees, shrubs, and rocks.

What does your animal use for shelter?

Chipmunks live in burrows that they dig. The burrows can have several entrances and tunnels.

What does your animal eat?

Chipmunks eat seeds, nuts, fruits, and grains. They store food for the winter in their burrow.

Does your animal change or do something different when the seasons change?

In the winter, chipmunks sleep. Sometimes they'll wake up to eat. Then they go back to sleep.

Could your animal live in Ohio?

There are chipmunks in Ohio. They can live in Ohio's temperatures. There are plenty of trees and shrubs for them. They can find enough food.