Reader's Response Journal Prompts

	1.	Create a timeline of events from what you have read thus far.
	2.	Describe the major conflict in your story thus far. How do you predict it will be resolved?
	3.	What part of the story would you change and why?
	4.	The climax of the story is the most exciting or interesting part. Tell what you think the climax of this
Plot		book is and why.
	5.	What did you think was the most interesting part of the book and why?
	6.	Describe the most exciting part of the book and be sure to give at least three reasons to support your response from the story.
	7.	Explain how the conflict was resolved in the story.
C = 111:	1.	Describe how the setting of the book made it more interesting to the reader.
Setting	2.	Compare and contrast the setting to where you live.
	1.	List the main characters and provide a brief description for each of them.
	2.	How does one of the characters change throughout the story? Why did they change?
	3.	Describe how the story would be different if it were from another character's point of view.
	4.	Find one word (character trait) that describes your character. List 3 examples from the story that
Characters	7.	support this.
Characters	5.	Draw a character sketch of the main character. Don't forget to describe their physical
] 5.	characteristics as well as at least 3 character traits.
	6.	Create another character for your story and explain how his/her presence in the story might
	0.	change what happens.
	7.	Create a Facebook "status update" or Twitter "tweet" as if you were the main character in the
	/.	novel. Explain how you are feeling in 140 characters or less.
	0	Write about at least three problems the main character faced. How did they solve each one?
	8.	Predict what will happen next using at least one clue from the text.
Inferring	1.	I can infer that the character is feelingbecause
9	2.	The state of the s
	3.	Inferred thatbecause
	1.	After reading, I wonder
	2.	I don't understand
Questioning	3.	List 4 questions you have for one of the characters you would like to meet in real life.
	4.	I am confused aboutbecause
Determining	1.	In one paragraph, state the main idea of your book.
	2.	What do you think the most important part of your book has been thus far or after reading?
Importance	3. 	In this chapter/story the main event was
	4.	Describe the author's purpose by explaining why the author wrote this story.
	1.	Paraphrase (summarize in your own words) the beginning of your book.
	2.	Summarize the last chapter of your book in a paragraph.
Summarizing	3.	Create a Facebook "status update" or Twitter "tweet" as if you were the main character in the
3		novel. Summarize the chapter in 140 characters or less.
	1.	I was most surprised whenbecause
	2.	Explain how you can apply what you've learned from this book in your life.
Synthesizing	3.	How would you change your own "real life" to be more like the world in your story?
5,11119	4.	If would change this part of the storybecause
	1.	Draw a visualization of the main setting in your book.
	1. 2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story.
Visualizina	11	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the
Visualizing	2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind.
Visualizing	2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the
	2. 3.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life.
	2. 3.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you.
Visualizing Connections	2. 3.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life.
	2. 3. 1. 2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection?
	2. 3. 1. 2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this!
	2. 3. 1. 2. 3.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this!
	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection.
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection.
	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world.
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme.
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme.
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 1. 2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 1. 2. 1.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book).
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 2. 1. 2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book.
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 2. 1. 2. 3.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why?
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 2. 1. 2.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why? You're a movie critique. Critique this book as if it were a movie. Write a paragraph supporting your
Connections Theme Book	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 1. 2. 3. 4. 4. 4.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why? You're a movie critique. Critique this book as if it were a movie. Write a paragraph supporting your opinion with examples from the text. Don't forget to give it a rating!
Connections	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 2. 3. 4. 5.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why? You're a movie critique. Critique this book as if it were a movie. Write a paragraph supporting your opinion with examples from the text. Don't forget to give it a rating!
Connections Theme Book	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 4. 5. 6.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why? You're a movie critique. Critique this book as if it were a movie. Write a paragraph supporting your opinion with examples from the text. Don't forget to give it a rating! I admire I thought it was funny when
Connections Theme Book	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 4. 5. 6. 7.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why? You're a movie critique. Critique this book as if it were a movie. Write a paragraph supporting your opinion with examples from the text. Don't forget to give it a rating! I admire I thought it was funny when Create your own design for the front and back covers of the novel.
Connections Theme Book	2. 3. 1. 2. 3. 4. 5. 4. 5. 6.	Make an 8 section comic book strip with captions showing the main events from the story. Think about what you just read. Draw the most important part from that chapter to show the picture you were visualizing in your mind. Describe an event from the story and how you were able to connect this to something in your own life. Tell about a time something similar to what happened in the story happened to you. Describe something you have read that is similar to this book. How were you able to make this connection? Compare and contrast the main character to yourself. A Venn diagram might be helpful for this! Describe something that happened in the story. Explain how you were able to make a text-to-world connection. Identify the theme (the message the author wants you to get) of this book. Use at least 2 examples to support your response. Describe how the character's struggle helped you identify the theme. Create a WANTED poster for the antagonist (someone who is against the protagonist, or hero, in your book). Write a letter to someone recommending this book. Is this book title a good one or a poor one and why? You're a movie critique. Critique this book as if it were a movie. Write a paragraph supporting your opinion with examples from the text. Don't forget to give it a rating! I admire I thought it was funny when